

Informit Australian Policy

Discover more with the Australian Policy Database

Connect with a rich source of Australian policy and practice research instantly with this authoritative database.

Developed in partnership with the Analysis and Policy Observatory, this extensive collection reinforces quality search results across articles, grey literature, reports, video, digital, infographics and guides available within Informit. Sharing the latest in policy knowledge and evidence, this database supports enhanced learning, collaboration and contribution.

Collection highlights

- Authoritative and reliable sources and content from across Australia's tertiary sector
- Comprehensive indexing of relevant materials to government, academic research centres, think tanks and research companies
- Delivers the latest in policy knowledge and evidence
- Supports audience contribution to its extensive assets
- Dedicated to content from and about Australia
- Extensive coverage of current and historical information sources
- New content added regularly

Key subjects

- Criminology and Criminal Justice
- Family, Marriage and Women
- Public Policy
- Social Sciences
- Social Services and Public Welfare
- Current Affairs
- Digital Health Systems
- Work Learning and Wellbeing
- Sustainability

Informit
SEARCH

Start searching now search.informit.org

To request a free trial or quote, visit informit.org/trial-and-quote

For more information, contact Informit | Email support.informit@rmit.edu.au | Call +61 39925 8210

Informit
informit.org

Get curated content delivered to you with Informit Search

Unique, specialised research content from leading Australian, international publishers and subject experts across a wide range of topics

Informit Search features

- Optimal indexing to make the most relevant and current content easy to find
- Easy to use, intuitive searching and personalised recommendations
- Enhanced search experience with cloud-based and responsive technology
- User-constructed searches for information tailored to your needs
- Recommendations and research trends analysis powered by AI and machine learning

Enriching your knowledge and insights with information you can trust

For over 30 years, Informit has been connecting people across the globe with credible, current and hard-to-find information from trusted international thought-leaders and academics.

With its state-of-the-art, responsive AI technology, Informit delivers a superior and intuitive experience for everyone who seeks, gains and shares knowledge.

Originally created for students, professors and librarians at Melbourne's RMIT University, Informit has always been built on a deep sense of community and empowering people through education.

Today, Informit collaborates with libraries both local and international, governments, publishers and information resources to support reliable research outcomes, leadership and quality standards that will help shape future information exchange.

Informit
SEARCH

Start searching now search.informit.org

To request a free trial or quote, visit informit.org/trial-and-quote

For more information, contact Informit | Email support.informit@rmit.edu.au | Call +61 39925 8210

Informit
informit.org